Parents Can Make A Difference . . . Daily

Your home may not be a classroom, but it is still a powerful place of learning. One of the most important things you can do as a parent or guardian, is to show (in words and actions) confidence in your child’s ability to succeed everyday in school and in life. Positive messages have a way of becoming real actions and attitudes. Use this guide as a reminder of ways you can make a difference in your family.

Encouraging children costs nothing and yet, offers big rewards. Remember to:

- Always find something positive to say
- Praise your child’s efforts, not just his or her accomplishments.
- Help your child feel good about him or herself by saying things like:
  - “I can tell you worked very hard on that.”
  - “You’re getting much better at that.”
  - “I appreciate what you did.”
  - “You really handled that situation well.”
- Have faith in your child. Don’t be afraid to give your child increasing responsibility and independence.
- Discourage competition (in all forms) between brothers and sisters.
- Respect your child by treating him or her with dignity.

Another important way you can make a daily difference in the life of your children is by spending some quality time with them. Busy parents have a limited amount of time to spend with their children. Spending time with your child, no matter what the age, is extremely important. It is the quality of the time spent (reading together, playing, asking questions), not the quantity of time that is important. Communicating with your child encourages him or her to tell you what he or she is thinking and feeling. This will improve vocabulary and develop thinking skills, all of which are important for success in school and life.
Quality time can happen at any time or any place. The quality of the time you already spend together can be made even better, by talking with and listening to your child. Driving in the car or riding the bus, walking through the neighborhood or going for an ice cream after dinner are all good times to talk together and stay connected. Children of all ages enjoy having your full attention at bedtime to read or talk together. Reading together offers ways to discuss important issues that may not be discussed otherwise.

Think of ways you can spend quality time with your child/children. What are some ways you can turn chore time into quality time?

1. _______________________________________________________________________________________________
2. _______________________________________________________________________________________________
3. _______________________________________________________________________________________________
4. _______________________________________________________________________________________________
5. _______________________________________________________________________________________________

Being a good parent is not about saving time—it is about investing time. Our children need daily encouragement and quality time with us so that they will be strong individuals and successful adults.